Who We Are

AgScape is leading a movement to bring agriculture and food education into all Ontario classrooms with the goal to inspire youth to see their role within the food system that's a vehicle for social, economic, and environmental impact. We accomplish this through providing experiential and science-based agriculture and food education programs that inspire students to be curious, critical, and conscious about their food choices, discover exciting career opportunities that match their passions, and be bold global citizens, thinkers, and innovators.

We are passionate about connecting today's students with the thriving field of agriculture and food. We have a work environment that fosters collaboration and creativity and provide the coaching and support for each team member to be the best they can be.

Position Overview

You will be responsible for virtual and/or in-classroom delivery of lessons and presentations on agriculture and food related topics as part of the Teacher Ambassador Program.

AgScape's Teacher Ambassador Program is designed to make a meaningful impact on students' food and agriculture literacy, health, future careers and overall success. The program places AgScape's Teacher Ambassadors, who are skilled and experienced Ontario educators, directly into classrooms to teach your students various curriculum-linked lessons related to agriculture and food, and encourage critical thinking when it comes to making food choices.

Key Responsibilities

- Deliver Ontario curriculum-linked agriculture and food-related lessons to students and teachers across the province.
- Coordinate and communicate with educators to schedule dates and times for the delivery of workshops/lessons
- Understand and apply current educational trends and strategies when delivering workshops/lessons
- Adapt and adjust workshop/lesson content and delivery style based on student grade levels, abilities and accommodations
- Network to schools and teachers to grow registrations for the Teacher Ambassador program
- Promote AgScape's additional education resources and materials available for educators
- Opportunities to support AgScape at external events (ie: promote our free resources at a booth during professional development events)
- Opportunities to attend agriculture and food events with the AgScape team for personal professional development and education

Who You Are

- An excellent communicator – You know what it means to act as an ambassador for an organization and can share its mission and values passionately. You get your verbal and written messages across clearly and effectively to every audience.
- A strategic thinker – You are able to visualize what is needed, create calendars and schedules, and achieve your objectives.
- An organizer – You are able to handle multiple responsibilities at the same time.
- A self-starter – You have a proven ability to strategize and implement fresh and effective processes to improve the overall integrity of our work. You ask for the resources you need and take action when looking for solutions to problems.
- Creative – You educate and engage people in innovative ways and use all media available to you.
- Detail-oriented – You recognize the importance of the fine details in written words and visuals.
- Team player – You can work cross-functionally with teammates who have different areas of expertise in both a virtual work environment and during occasional in-person events.

Competencies & Other Requirements

- Must meet one (1) of the following criteria:
  - be in good standing with the Ontario College of Teachers,
  - currently in a Bachelor of Education/Master of Teaching program, as recognized by the Ontario College of Teachers

- currently in an Early Childhood Education Program
- registered as an Early Childhood Educator
- Must have access to a vehicle or public transportation
- Must have access to reliable internet and computer
- Comfortable with working with technology (i.e. educational technologies, a variety of web conferencing software, Google Workspace etc.)
- Agriculture and food expertise is considered an asset
- Possess strong interpersonal and leadership skills
- Strong passion for promoting programming and expanding educator network
- Have the ability to take initiative and self-manage
- Communicate effectively through a variety of oral, written and digital forms
- Comfort and willingness to work with multiple age ranges/grade levels
- Ability to coordinate and manage program schedules efficiently
- Provide a Vulnerable Screening Sector prior to working in schools
